NATURE OF ACCIDENT AND STAGE OF FLIGHT:
Aircraft missing. Took off 0325 hours GMT 14-10-42 on I.A.S. Patrol with ETA Base 1025 GMT 14-10-42. Limit endurance 9 hours and thirty minutes.

Forced landing in heavily timbered country at night.

PRIMARY CAUSE:
~~Observations indicate that port motor~~ caught fire in the air. Presumably occupants were not at ~~sufficient~~ altitude to bail out. Fire may have been caused by switching from one tank to another with throttle open, ~~although this is only surmised.~~

CONCLUSIONS OF A.I.B.(850)

A/c authorized for convoy protective duty crashed & exploded in wooded territory about 150 miles from base, reasons obscure. This accident occured on 14 Oct/42. The wreckage was found on 25 Oct. The investigation was poorly carried out, & proceedings lack much necessary evidence. It is considered that the pilot, P.O. Hodge, who is missing, may reasonably be presumed dead. (Remarks of C.I.A: This investigation is of no practical value & the unjustified lapse of time has removed any possibility of attempting to find the cause of the accident.
